

Empower Students

Leveraging the uCANRise Theory of Change to support student-led movements for educational equity

uCANRise

u.aspire

uCANRise

uCANRise is a collaborative project of 3 college access and success organizations.

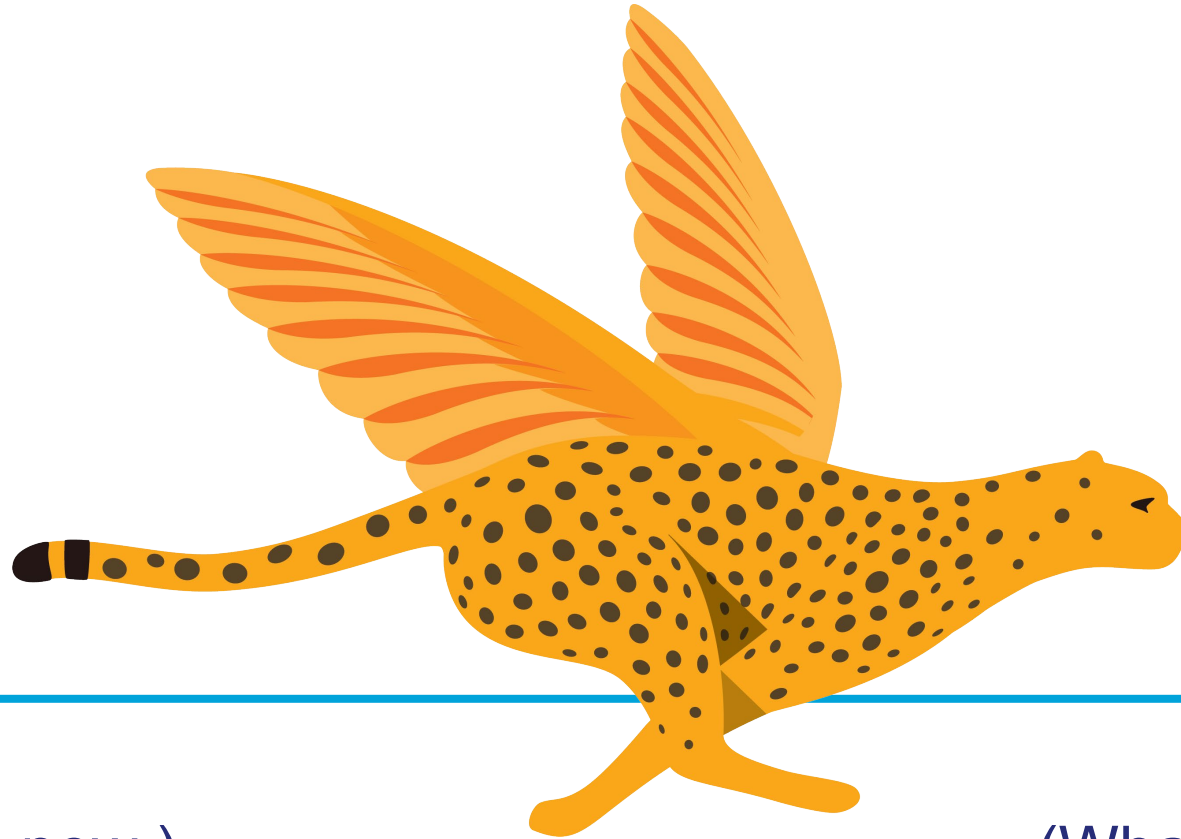

with support from

The James Irvine Foundation

What's the fastest way from Point A to Point B?

[Winged cheetah.]

A

B

(What we have now.)

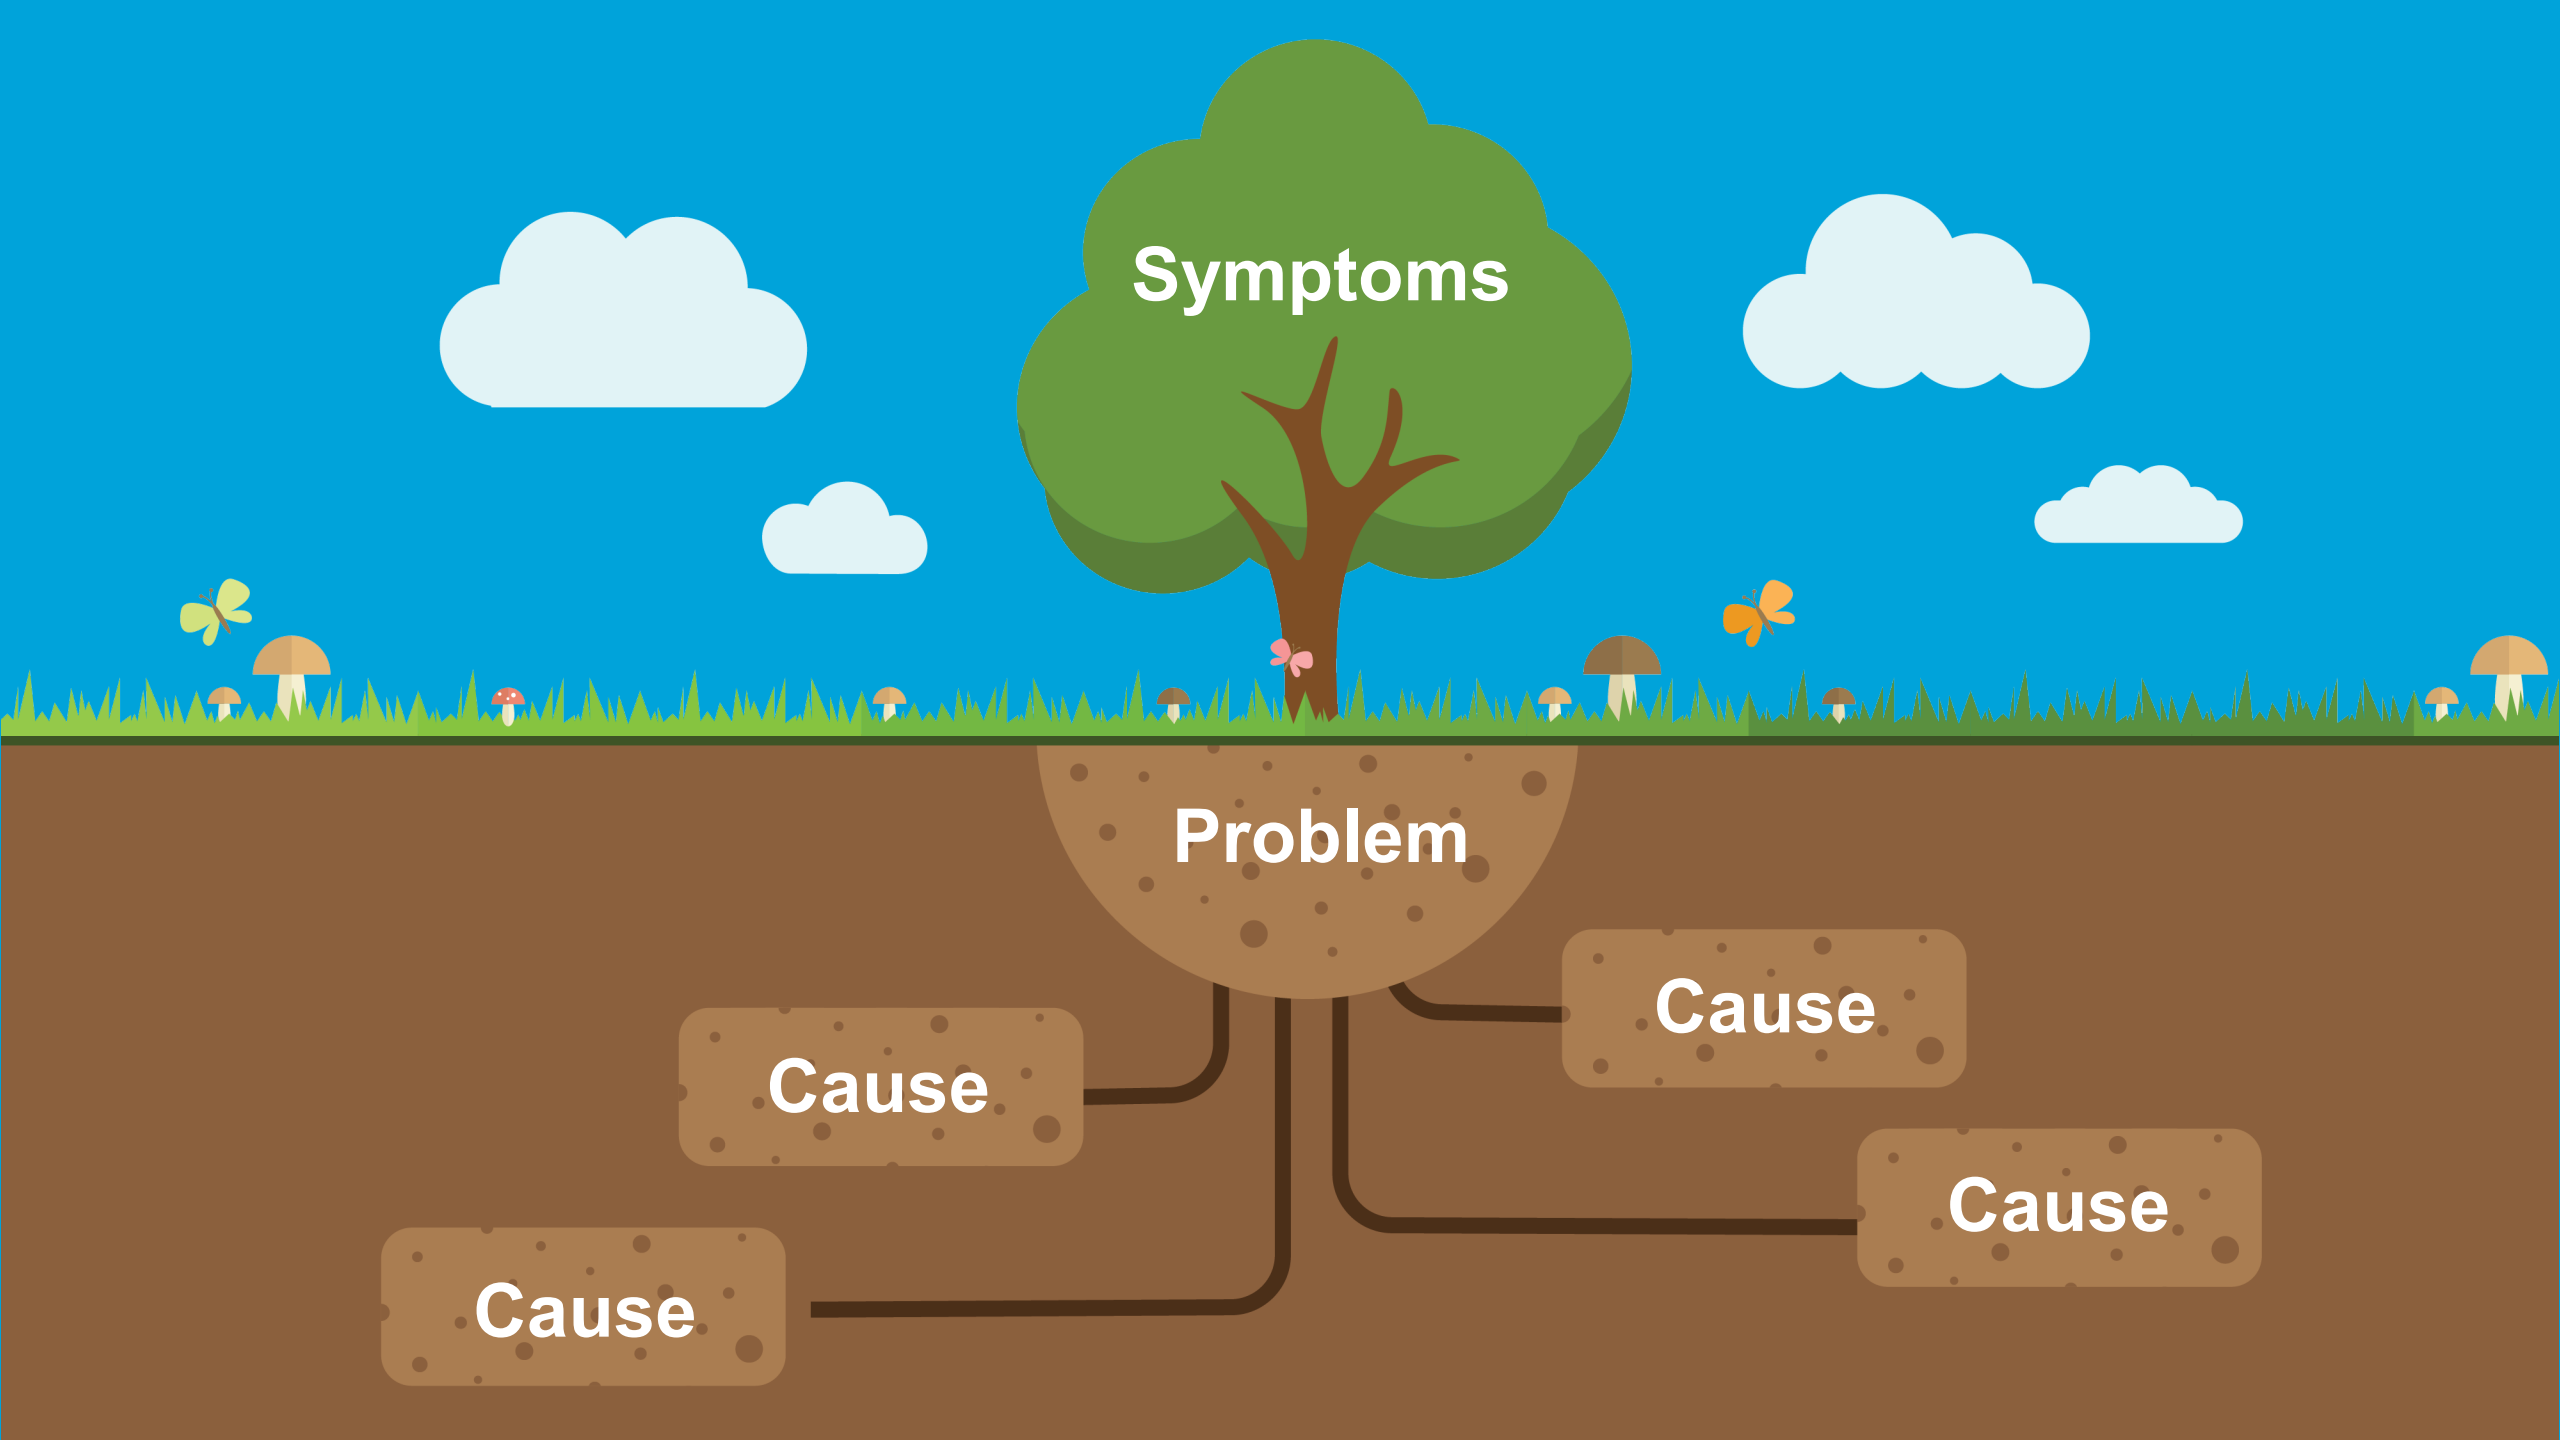

(What we want to have when we're done doing stuff.)

What do we have now?

- Sea-Level Rise
- Urban Food Deserts
- Higher Black Infant Mortality Rates
- Racial Bias in School Discipline
- Gender Income Gap
- Increasing Homelessness

What do we want to have when we're done doing stuff?

How do we get there from here?

Symptoms

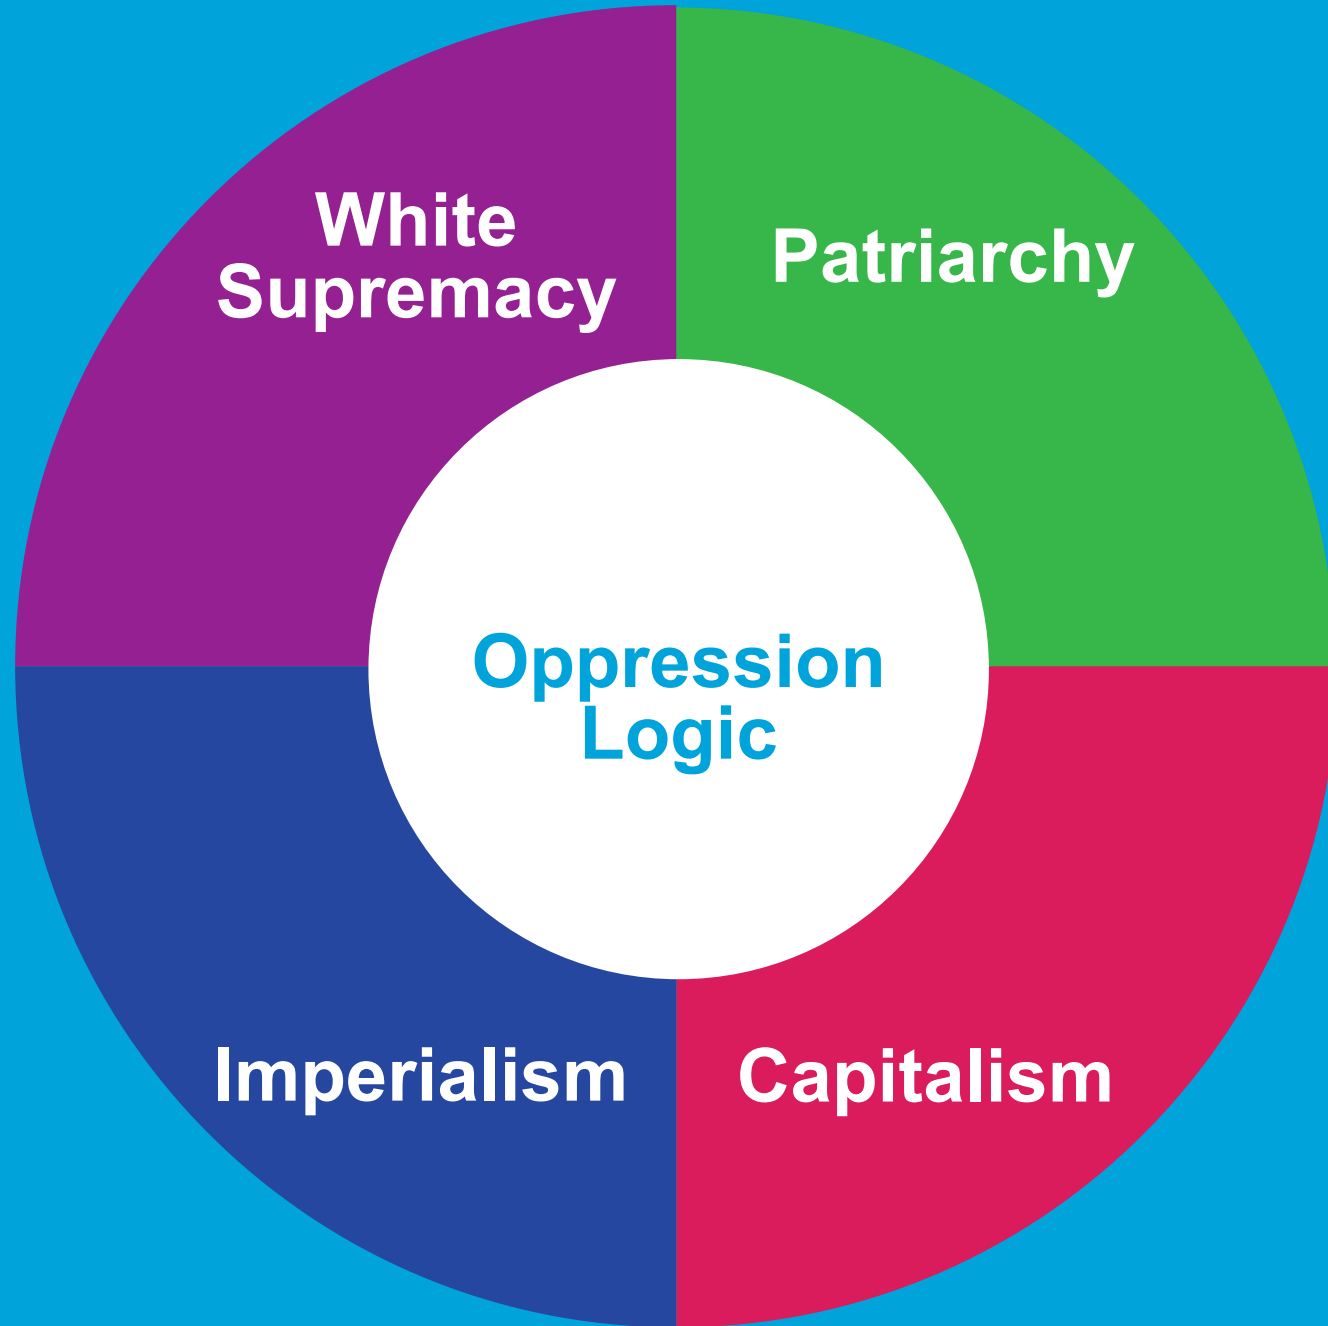

Problem

Cause

Cause

Cause

Cause

White Supremacy

Patriarchy

Oppression Logic

Imperialism

Capitalism

Underrepresented students face complex institutional barriers getting to and through college.

How can college
access and success
organizations support
students for advocacy on their campuses and in their home communities?

Enabling Environments

Empowering Activities

Empowering Outcomes

Theory of Change

For more information, visit uCANRise.org

uCANRise

u•aspire

SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA
COLLEGE ACCESS NETWORK

